The Baldwin County School District is hosting three virtual parent informational meetings via Zoom. Parents of elementary and middle school remote learning students will be provided information on the option of returning to in-person instruction or continuing with remote learning. Parents will also have an opportunity to ask questions. It is very important for parents to submit the instructional model selection form, which has been provided by the child's school, by October 2. School administrators will use this information to prepare for the return of additional students to the classrooms on Wednesday, October 21.
